Today's guests are Linda Gleason, Ladies Ministries President UPCI, and Jennie Russell, Executive Vice President of Urshan College and UGST. Our conversation focuses on women in leadership. We discuss the experience of being a numerical minority in a male-dominated workplace, work/life balance, wrong perceptions that hinder our effectiveness, leadership styles, and the value of having and being a mentor.

OVERVIEW

When we think about women in leadership, what comes to mind? A power suit, fancy title, and a corner office? Leadership is more than a title or a position. Leadership is influence, the ability to motivate others in a way that builds the individual, team, and organization you serve.

How do you define leadership?

Power isn't control at all—power is strength and giving that strength to others. A leader isn't someone who forces others to make [her] stronger; a leader is someone willing to give [her] strength to others that they may have the strength to stand on their own."
